

An Open Letter to the Staff of Hughes Health & Rehabilitation:

Dear Fellow Hughes Employees:

During the recent historic October snowstorm and its resulting damages to our homes and communities, I saw acts of kindness and caring that were astounding.

Your attention to the residents of Hughes Health and your concern for your co-workers – even while your own homes and neighborhoods were in the dark – was astonishing. You brought light, warmth and companionship to many of us in need.

Over and over I heard visitors say that they would never know anything was wrong because it was business as usual here at Hughes. Assignments were completed and everyone was smiling.

Your dedication to your profession puts a smile on my face every day, but your efforts during the past couple of weeks have touched my heart in a way that is difficult to explain. I cannot thank you enough for putting your own lives on hold in order to make the lives of those entrusted to our care better. Even as the local hospitals were decompressing and we admitted numerous patients, you did so without complaint. I have the utmost respect for your professionalism, commitment, and determination to your craft.

I am and will always remain grateful.

Thank you.
